

Our Mission: To establish friendships and promote cultural understanding between the people of Toulouse and Atlanta. The Atlanta Toulouse Sister Cities Committee accomplishes its mission through citizens exchanges, and many interesting programs and events.

As a member of ATSCC, you will have the benefit of attending our many exciting events, as well as being a member of the city of Atlanta's most dynamic sister cities group. Make new friendships, have fun, and, if you like, join one of our active subcommittees. It is not a requirement that you speak French to become a member!

Our New Member Reception

“We had a lovely reception for our new members in October at Carolyn Wills’ home. In Halloween tradition, her home was welcoming, decorated to the nines for the season. It was a treat (no pun intended) hearing her recount the history and tradition of our organization with all her memories. She held our attention like in a movie as we gathered around sipping tea and prosecco and munching on a delightful afternoon buffet of assorted sweets and savories. The new member reception always does us proud. We were able to meet new members, recently joined” at is ATSCC: ATSCC operates under the umbrella of Sister Cities International.

Atlanta began her official sister city relationship with Toulouse on December 17, 1974, when then mayor Maynard Jackson of Atlanta signed a proclamation declaring Toulouse and Atlanta sister cities.

Jackson had lived in Toulouse as a child, while his mother was pursuing her doctorate in French. He felt that the two sister cities would make excellent partners. And they have!

April 7, 1975 Maynard Jackson, Pierre Baudis signed the charter in Toulouse

We have a dynamic board that offers events monthly. Regular events include

- A Holiday Festivity, usually at a member's home
- Fete des Rois – our most elegant event, catered and held in a member's home.
- Special museum expeditions
- Walks/hikes in local historic parks
- Wine tastings
- Celebrating the Georgia-Tech French Master Students here in Atlanta with a brunch
- Talks by celebrated French and Atlanta personalities.
- New Member Reception
- Nuit en Blanc
- Crepe Dining Event

Atlanta-Toulouse, offering the French and Atlanta community opportunities to socialize, explore, enjoy those special things that tie the two communities together.
